

BRUNO BLASZAK

Bruno Blaszak is an incomparable tiger trainer. Coming from a family of professional animal trainers, Bruno takes pride in his magnificent cats and the way that they perform. The performing tigers are trained mostly in the Polish language and he talks to them continually throughout their performance. Bruno is a strong believer in positive reinforcement and feeds the tigers rewards of meat and tells them "Bravo" for their superb performances.

One thing different from other acts is that the tigers come to him from their platforms to do their part in the performances. Another dazzling feature of Bruno's act is the high wire walk. The tiger walks across two wires suspended more than ten feet in the air! This feat is accomplished by starting the cat out at low heights and gradually moving the cable up higher.

Bruno works with Bengal Tigers, Siberian Tigers and Sumatran tigers all in the same act. Each animal is different and the act is never the same.

Bruno was never forced into his profession by his parents. I could have done anything that I chose to do but I thought how many people can work and live with such beautiful animals and have the opportunity to travel throughout the country."

The world would not be the same if we let the magnificent tiger go extinct!!

Bravo!
